

Caddis Collaborative is looking for a new colleague to play a central role in all phases of our work from entitlement, planning, and design, through construction administration. Our ideal candidate would have an active architect's license (CO or CA preferred), and at least 10-15 years of relevant job experience. We are an equal opportunity employer and women, LGBTQ+, and BIPOC applicants are encouraged to inquire.

Position

Full-time in-person position (36-40 hours/week) with competitive pay, profit share, and excellent quality of life benefits. This position has advancement and ownership potential.

Who We Are

Caddis maintains a collegial, dedicated, and collaborative process in a mellow work environment with a current staff of 10-12. Our work is centered in Colorado, but we work nationally. We encourage a healthy work/life balance and maintain a fun, relaxed, focused, office culture. Caddis actively supports the ongoing professional development of our staff, freedom, and the ability to make a positive impact on the world, local community and on others sharing the workplace. Our pet friendly and accessible studio is in the Holiday Neighborhood in North Boulder, CO.

Our expertise and current workload include neighborhood planning, innovative affordable and market-rate multifamily housing, neuro-inclusive communities, cohousing and cooperatives, agrivillages, commercial tenant improvements, independent schools, new commercial and mixed-use buildings, and low-carbon custom homes. Sustainability is a core value in every project we do and in our office environment.

Please visit www.caddispc.com for a better understanding of our project portfolio and firm history.

Preferrable Personal Qualities

Curious, with a passion for learning and engaging in the profession
Strong design sensibility
Motivated critical thinker
Independent, personable, proactive contributor
Capable communicator
Community minded, experience on city or non-profit boards

Specific Responsibilities

Creative design and problem solving
Affordable and market-rate multifamily entitlement, design, detailing, documentation, code analysis, and construction administration
Project management, collaborating within or leading teams of 2-4 staff, delegation and coordination, setting project schedules and budgets, playing a central role in production of multifamily projects
Active mentorship to less experienced staff
Interest in playing a role in business development
Contributing to a healthy work environment
Client care and support

Skills Sought

Essential:

Design skillfulness with a focus on placemaking and public realm excellence in multifamily communities including LIHTC projects

Autodesk Revit Suite / BIM

Ability to relate to clients

Ability to manage integrated design and consultant teams

Ability to work with others while thinking and working independently

Microsoft Office

Desirable:

Entitlement experience, especially in the City of Boulder and around the Front Range

Lived or work experience in cohousing

Adobe Creative Suite (Photoshop, InDesign)

Monograph

Bluebeam Revu

Modeling software like SketchUp, Rhino, or Enscape

How to Apply

Email resume and cover letter with references and examples of work to hello@caddispc.com or pay the office a visit in person!